

This course explores topics to improve the quality of survey data in Indigenous communities, rethinks validity from an Indigenous cultural lens, highlights the limitations of federal and institutional datasets, promotes methods of Indigenous quantitative data collection in the context of data sovereignty, and applies content more broadly to other marginalized subpopulations.

HED 696 Indigenous Statistics

SPRING 2022

Dr. Jameson (JD) Lopez

jamesondlopez@arizona.edu

Thursdays 7:00-9:30pm

(7.5 Week 1) Flex modality with remote (on-line) access!

Small Class
Big Ideas!!